

To: letters@economist.com
From: Thomas Colignatus / Thomas Cool <cool@dataweb.nl>
Subject: AIDS vs Global Warming
Cc:
Bcc:
Attached:

Dear Sir, Madam,

In The Economist, November 27th 2004, in the Books and Arts section, p93, you take from Bjorn Lomborg, "Global Crises, Global Solutions", CUP 2004: "Better, for instance, to spend resources on the immediate problem of AIDS in Africa than the more distant one of global warming." However, in January 2005, Dutch University Press will publish the 2nd edition of my "Definition & Reality in the General Theory of Political Economy" (DRGTPE). This alternative analysis shows that resources are underutilised now, so that it remains possible to both fight STI and do something about global warming, i.e. at levels that fit current preferences.

Thomas Colignatus
<http://www.dataweb.nl/~cool>

PM. See also Appendix D of:

"Modifying behaviour on STI including HIV and oncogenic HPV: a draft protocol for a registry open to the registered subject, generating the concept of a 'STI passport'"
April 25 2004 and December 2 2004

at <http://econwpa.wustl.edu/eprints/hew/papers/0412/0412001.abs>

To: letters@economist.com
From: Thomas Colignatus / Thomas Cool <cool@dataweb.nl>
Subject: AIDS vs Global Warming
Cc:
Bcc:
Attached:

Dear Sir, Madam,

In The Economist, November 27th 2004, in the Books and Arts section, p93, you take from Bjorn Lomborg, "Global Crises, Global Solutions", CUP 2004: "Better, for instance, to spend resources on the immediate problem of AIDS in Africa than the more distant one of global warming." However, in January 2005, Dutch University Press will publish the 2nd edition of my "Definition & Reality in the General Theory of Political Economy" (DRGTPE). This alternative analysis shows that resources are underutilised now, so that it remains possible to both fight STI and do something about global warming, i.e. at levels that fit current preferences.

Thomas Colignatus
<http://www.dataweb.nl/~cool>

PM. See also Appendix D of:

"Modifying behaviour on STI including HIV and oncogenic HPV: a draft protocol for a registry open to the registered subject, generating the concept of a 'STI passport'"
April 25 2004 and December 2 2004

at <http://econwpa.wustl.edu/eprints/hew/papers/0412/0412001.abs>